

Kirsten is a cellist, producer and composer with an eclectic range of collaborations under her belt - from punk, indie, and electronic music to live art installation performances. Sonic Youth's Thurston Moore released Kirsten's first solo album on his label, Ecstatic Peace. She has continued with her studio work since and has performed with Elliott Smith, Vic Chesnutt, Jarboe (Swans), and for the Tribeca Film Festival Award winning documentary "Give Up Tomorrow".

Megan Harrold enjoys performing in a wide array of spaces from Lincoln Center to tire factories. She founded Inimoiis Dance to encompass her choreographic works in 2008, which has been seen nationally in Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia, Wyoming, and Illinois. Internationally Megan's work has been performed in Mexico, Iceland, Amsterdam and France.
